MONTEREY

It May Be a Desert, But the Cars Are in Full Bloom

This marks the 29th year that SCM treks from the verdant — but wet — forests of the Pacific Northwest to the striking colors, dry climate and warmth of the Arizona desert.

Arizona in January is paradise for car lovers. The days are warm but not hot, and the evenings cool but not frigid. Rain is infrequent.

The festivities kick off with the third Arizona Concours d'Elegance on Sunday, January 23. SCM Editor-at-Large Donald Osborne joins me as co-emcee. With Coachwork of Zagato a featured class, and Andrea Zagato in attendance, once again this concours is a don't-miss event.

Barrett-Jackson begins selling the next day, and RM Sotheby's, Gooding, Russo and Steele, Bonhams and Silver all crank up as the week goes on.

We will host two seminars: American Car Collector will present one at Barrett-Jackson on Wednesday, January 27, and Gooding hosts the SCM Insider's Seminar on Thursday, January 28. See details in this guide.

Last year, 2,529 cars sold for a total of $291m. I predict that sales will be up at least 10% this year. There continues to be an influx of new buyers who are chasing cars from the '80s, '90s and 2000s — while at the same time prices of rare, properly researched muscle cars remain strong.

Come to our seminars, and then visit us at our booth at the Gooding & Company auction. There's nothing we like better than hearing your tales of the great deals you just scored — or the even better deal that's just around the corner. — Keith Martin ■

Star Car

1995 Ferrari F50

(estimate: $2,200,000–$2,800,000). This is the Ferrari F50 that introduced the world to this new exotic at the Geneva Auto Museum in March 1995.

The last Ferrari to utilize a five-digit chassis number, chassis 99999 was also used for Ferrari's promotional materials, as well as other significant events showcasing the new F50 supercar. The vehicle was then delivered new to legendary Ferrari dealer Jacques Swaters.

Replacing the celebrated F40, the F50 has the heart of a Ferrari Formula One V12 with a chassis comprised entirely of Cytec aerospace carbon fiber and weighing a mere 225 pounds. With only 349 F50s in existence, this is a unique opportunity to own one of the most important modern-day supercars.

Sleeper Car 1931 Bugatti Type 49 Tourer (estimate: $550,000–$750,000).

Many veteran Bugatti enthusiasts believe that the finest of all touring Bugatti motor cars was the Type 49 Tourer. The last Bugatti to utilize the single-cam engine and with coachwork completed by A.P. Compton & Co. Ltd., chassis 49119 is a historic and rare offering. The car offers a lovely and distinct provenance of only two original owners and was the Bugatti presented at the 1931 London Motor Show. This matching-numbers, unrestored, Type 49 is finished in a beautiful blue over original saddle-brown interior and ready to be enjoyed by the next owner.

Star Car

While our Arizona sale attracts tremendous quality, I've chosen the 1971 Lamborghini Miura S as my star pick. An outstanding late-production example of the model, the car on offer is presented in a gorgeous color combination of white with a white-and-blue interior. It comes to market in well-preserved, original condition. Furthermore, its sale represents the first time it has been offered in the United States.

While Miura SVs regularly eclipse the $2 million mark, the Miura S remains at an attractive price point with comparable performance and superb styling. With poster cars from this period continuing to gain momentum, it will be interesting to see what this stunning example achieves. In my opinion, it is certainly the most alluring example of 1970s automotive design (Estimate $1,350,000–$1,650,000).

Sleeper Car

My sleeper pick for our Arizona sale is the 1970 Maserati Ghibli 4.9 SS coupe. As a model, the Maserati Ghibli is coveted by collectors and enthusiasts alike for its excellent driving dynamics, race-inspired engineering, comfortable passenger compartment and the faultless styling of Giugiaro.

The car on offer is a fantastic example of the model, combining iconic 1970s Italian styling with incredible performance. It meets all the key criteria when it comes to collectibility: unique colors (it's presented in original Oro Metallizzato with beige leather interior); is fitted with a powerful 4,719-cc V8 engine, capable of producing 330 bhp; and boasts a well-documented ownership chain, with just three owners since new.

As a collectible, I believe its time hasn't yet come — there's plenty of room for growth. It's comparable to the Ferrari 365 GTB/4 Daytona coupe — but currently available at a fraction of the cost.

Romeo Montreal — an Italian race-bred V8 car designed by Gandini at Bertone (the author of the Miura). Examples in the United States are very uncommon, as there were fewer than 4,000 cars made and they were never sold in North America.

With prices of the Maserati Ghibli coupe climbing ever higher, the Montreal is an excellent consideration.

Star Cars Russo and Steele is proud to present on offer one of the most crucial examples of America's Sports Car available anywhere on the planet today.

With just 2,578 miles and finished in stunning Riverside Gold, 1969 Chevrolet Corvette 427/430 L88 coupe chassis number 194379S714904 is quite likely the lowest-mileage L88 Corvette in existence. It is an unrestored and almost entirely original example and is one of just 116 examples built. It is also one of only 10 with the coveted 4.56:1 rear end.

Featuring fully documented provenance from new, it is the recipient of numerous top-level awards including NCRS Top Flight and Bloomington Gold. This dream automobile is also a Corvette Hall of Fame inductee. This is a superb investment-grade legend that's sure to ignite the auction block this January.

Sleeper Car The 1965
Ferrari 330

GT 6537 "Shark Nose" is a special one-off creation based on one of the finest 1960s V12 Ferrari GT models of all time.

Bought new by legendary American businessman, racing-team principal and founding owner of the NFL's New Orleans Saints, John Mecom Jr., this highly unique Italian Tourer features one-of-one front-end design, including covered single headlamps and an angular frontal treatment with large split radiator grille openings sculpted in Italy.

A gorgeous 1939 Mercedes-Benz 540K will headline our pre-war classics. One of only five built in this configuration, this 5.4-liter, Straight-8 Mercedes was delivered to German Field Marshal Erhard Milch in 1939.

The body, frame, driveline and supercharger are original, and the car has won multiple prestigious awards, including Most Significant Mercedes-Benz at the 2008 Meadow Brook Concours d'Elegance, Mercedes-Benz Star of Excellence at the 2009 Amelia Island Concours and Best in Class, European Class Pre-War at the 2011 Amelia Island Concours.

Sleeper Cars

In a genre dominated by Corvettes, Camaros and Mustangs, the Pontiac GTO doesn't always get its due, yet it is a highly collectible example of the Muscle Car Era. Every auction sees a handful cross the block, but in Scottsdale this year we will have seven top-notch GTOs — all from the same owner. Included in this GTO collection is a 1971 Judge convertible — one of only 17 ever produced — and a black-on-black 1969 Ram Air IV convertible. ■

Insider's Tip

Barrett-Jackson's flagship Scottsdale auction is an event unlike any other, and their 45th anniversary sale this January should be bigger and better than ever. Hundreds of thousands of people enter WestWorld of Scottsdale to experience this mega-event. In addition to the auction action, there are Ride 'N' Drives, lounges, live music, a vendor and sponsor marketplace, and the Opening Night Gala. Most of the Barrett-Jackson docket is no-reserve, meaning the sell-through rate is always near 100%, which adds to the electric atmosphere. Exceptional American muscle and customs make up a majority of the consignments, but there is an impressive selection of blue-chip foreign collectibles as well.

“Fresh on the heels of a record-setting 2015, we're thrilled to return to the Biltmore for our 17th consecutive year — the first time since partnering with Sotheby's. Our Arizona sale is a staple on our global auction calendar, always providing tremendous quality and variety at a range of price points. Once again we're proud to support the Arizona Concours d'Elegance, which returns to the Biltmore just days prior to our sale, making it the ideal venue to celebrate Arizona Car Week. For those planning on joining us in Phoenix, the sale preview will move to the Arizona Biltmore's lush lawns and gardens this year — a more intimate setting within the resort's courtyard. We also encourage registered bidders to stop by our 'Access the Knowledge' desk to view our history library and all corresponding information and accessories for each lot.” — Ian Kelleher, Managing Director, RM Sotheby's West Coast Division ■

1974 Egli-framed Black Shadow

Insider's Tip

Bonhams' sixth annual Las Vegas auction features vintage and contemporary machines from the U.S., Europe and Japan. 2016 Arizona Concours d'Elegance

Duesenberg, Zagato Coachwork and Exceptional Cars of Great Britain kick off Arizona Auction Week

By Chester Allen

Same great setting, and getting better every year

Arizona Car Week — always a big deal in the collector-car world — is now rounding into a must-do happening, thanks to the Arizona Concours d'Elegance.

Now in its third year, the Arizona Concours d'Elegance adds a top-notch day to a marathon week of car auctions. It's no longer just about bidding, buying and selling in Arizona.

This year, the setting remains the same: the Frank Lloyd Wright-inspired Arizona Biltmore Resort and Hotel — and its perfect lawns and gardens.

A field of 80 or so magnificent cars will be organized into 14 classes. Three special classes: Zagato Coachwork, Duesenberg and Exceptional Cars of Great Britain will also decorate the show field.

This year's concours, set for January 24, brings back Publisher Mar-

Where: The Arizona Biltmore, 2400 E. Missouri Ave., Phoenix, AZ 85016

When: January 23–24, 2016

Cost: $60 to attend Saturday's seminars; $80 for concours admission — if you buy tickets at least two weeks prior to January 22

Insider's Tip: The Arizona Concours d'Elegance is a welcome addition to a week that has been mostly about auctions. This year's concours is expected to carry on an already-rich tradition of amazing cars in a beautiful setting. This concours is a well-presented, relaxing event prior to a frenetic week of collector-car auctions.

tin as co-emcee with SCM Editor at Large Donald Osborne. But things really get rolling on January 23 with three special events:

At 10 a.m., the Phoenix Automotive Press Association's annual auction week preview brings a panel of noted car writers to the Arizona Biltmore Grand Ballroom to talk about market trends and predictions for the six collector-car auctions. Larry Edsall will moderate the PAPA event. The discussion ends at 11:30 a.m.

Immediately after the PAPA preview, "Celebrating the 100th Running of the Indy 500" brings winning Indy 500 drivers to a special roundtable discussion. This roundtable starts at noon and ends at 1:30 p.m.

Finally, at 2 p.m., Andrea Zagato and J Mays will present "The Design Process: From Concept to Prototype" from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Admission to all three presentations costs $60.

The 2016 Arizona Concours starts at 9 a.m. on Sunday, January 24. Andrea Zagato will attend as Honored Guest.

Concours proceeds will benefit Make-A-Wish Arizona. ■
