Where the Magic Is

I've been a judge at Amelia for more than two decades, and each year I look forward to walking on the vast sandy beaches as the sun comes up.

My room at The Ritz-Carlton often overlooks the tent housing RM Sotheby's consignments. It's like having my own private showcase, as I watch various cars come and go on test drives with prospective buyers.

During Amelia week, I'll also visit the Bonhams, Gooding & Company, Hollywood Wheels and Motostalgia auctions, as well as the Festivals of Speed car show.

I have two favorite parts of the week:

The first is watching the cars come onto the concours green on Sunday morning. They line up, engines snarling, clouds of exhaust and steam rising into the air, waiting to motor to their proper places for judging.

The second is at the end of concours day, after the winners have been announced. Suddenly a vast calm descends across the field, and everyone slowly begins to pack up to head home. Within a couple of hours, the cars are all gone. It's as if the clock has struck 12, and the magical place where all the magical cars were on display is just another golf course waiting for foursomes to stroll across it.

Sports Car Market and American Car Collector magazines will have a booth at Gooding and at the concours; stop by and pick up your SCM 28th-Anniversary pin. Above all, enjoy the gorgeous setting and the fantastic cars. It's a gearhead's paradise. — Keith Martin ■

Amelia Island Q&A

SCM's Dale Novak asks the auction companies about market trends, hot cars and where to get a cool drink

Chad Tyson

RM Sotheby's offerings veer toward important historic sports and racing models, such as this Lamborghini Miura at last year's sale

Gord Duff

Car Specialist, RM Sotheby's

What types of automobiles does RM Sotheby's gravitate toward for this sale?

At RM Sotheby's, we pride ourselves on offering cars with unique and prominent histories; oftentimes, it is the story behind a car that drives the most interest. The Amelia Island sale is geared more toward important and historic sports and racing automobiles to complement those featured at the Amelia Island Concours d'Elegance.

What does RM Sotheby's do that makes the Amelia Island auction experience unique and special?

One of the best things about our Amelia Island sale and its partnership with the Amelia Island Concours d'Elegance is that all the entrants stay at the same hotel. With both the auction and the concours taking place at The Ritz-Carlton, there is no need to leave the property once you arrive, unless of course you are partaking in one of the weekend's tours. The Amelia weekend is almost like a "family reunion" of the collector car auction world — we dine together, drink together and enjoy the camaraderie of the hobby together.

RM Sotheby's astute focus on research, as illustrated in our catalogs and our onsite "Access the Knowledge" service, is something that also differentiates us from our competitors. We are the only auction house to employ a full-time research team, dedicated to researching the history and authenticity of each and every car we offer. The "Access the Knowledge" desk set up at each of our events, Amelia Island included, is where you'll find the history library and all corresponding information and accessories for each lot, including everything from certificates to toolkits, as well as a knowledgeable staff member to answer any questions you may have.

Is there a particular car that you see as undervalued or under-recognized that would be an exceptional candidate for your sale?

The 2003 Aston Martin DB AR1 is a fantastic addition to our Amelia Island sale, and, in my opinion, is still undervalued in today's market. With very limited production — the example we are offering is body 89 of just 99 cars built — it combines exquisite styling with great performance; it is beautifully presented in rare medium anthracite metallic with dark red leather interior, equipped with an all-powerful V12 engine and manual transmission, and has been sparingly used, showing less than 700 miles from new.

From a collector's perspective, at less than $300,000 it represents excellent value for the price and a wonderful opportunity to own an example of Aston Martin's long-standing collaborative relationship with Zagato, particularly in light of recent prices achieved by other Zagato-bodied Astons.

What is your favorite place on the Island to enjoy a nice meal or drink?

The lobby bar at The Ritz-Carlton is always a popular place during the concours weekend — it is central, has a great atmosphere and presents a fantastic opportunity to catch up with other enthusiasts.

David Gooding

President and Founder, Gooding & Company

What types of automobiles does Gooding gravitate toward for this sale?

Our Amelia Island auction is no different from our other sales in this regard. We search for the world's most significant and valuable collector cars, and the absolute best examples of that category. We pursue unusual cars that are very high quality, but also something collectors and enthusiasts don't see every day. This could be a model that is less well known but up-and-coming, one that has been in the care of one owner over a number of decades or since new, or one that is coming into the public eye for the first time. We know it when we see it. It's the car that grabs our attention and sticks with us.

What does Gooding do that makes the Amelia Island auction experience unique and special?

For every auction, we focus our efforts on client experience and bringing the best possible consignments available in the marketplace. We are not in the business of quantity, but exceptional quality. We love being able to connect with our clients in person at each of our auctions, and Amelia is no exception. The atmosphere is relaxed, and we are always able to spend time catching up with clients and walking them through the auction tent to discuss what they're dreaming about adding to their collections. It's a great joy to share our passion for these beautiful cars, and Amelia is a great weekend, both for a sale and to enjoy the concours and events throughout.

Is there a particular car that you see as undervalued or unrecognized that would be an exceptional candidate for your sale?

As younger collectors enter the fold, we are seeing tremendous demand for the most famous and iconic supercars. Many collectors are looking to build complete sets: Porsche collectors are looking to have a 959, 911 GT1, Carrera GT and 918, and Ferrari collectors want the full range from a 288 GTO to a LaFerrari. There is also increased interest in cars such as the 360 Challenge Stradale and 911 GT3 RS — cars that offer the look and performance of a true supercar but are available, often in as-new condition, for a fraction of the price of the closest comparable supercar. We are also seeing a trend of barn finds that are exciting because it is an opportunity to preserve or restore a car correctly.

What is your favorite place on the Island to enjoy a nice meal or drink?

Our team really enjoys Gilbert's Underground Kitchen, the ideal spot to grab a seasonal, comforting and delicious meal.

Rupert Banner

Vice President of Business Development, Bonhams

What types of automobiles does Bonhams gravitate toward for this sale?

The Amelia Island Concours displays a wide variety of collector cars, from important sports and competition cars to pre-war and Brass Era cars. Bonhams is the most international of all the houses that will sell there, and we look to mirror the interests of those who attend the concours.

What does Bonhams do that makes the Amelia Island auction experience unique and special?

We offer a very knowledgeable and approachable team of specialists and an inventory of a broad selection of price points and eras. Our specialists are researchers by virtue of their position. This is one of the many strengths of Bonhams' Global Motoring Department. All of our cars are researched by our specialists, many of whom have decades of experience in specific genres of cars, and Bonhams also employs an extensive, international network of recognized marque experts and historians. Our expertise, resources, access to manufacturer archives, and network and roster of historians is what has helped propel Bonhams to year-after-year growth in the collector car market.

Is there a particular car that you see as undervalued or unrecognized that would be an exceptional candidate for your sale?

Rare, original-bodied classics are still undervalued relative to their supply. Some Alfa Romeos, Lancias and other entry-level classics look like a good value considering the events that they enable their owners to participate in. I think it's fair to say that there

Gooding & Company prides itself on presenting world-class motorcars, such as this 1967 Ferrari 275 GTB/4, sold for $3.3 million at Amelia Island in 2015

Bonhams considers itself the most international of auction houses. Last year, this 1981 BMW M1 coupe brought $605k at auction are a number of iconic designs from the 1980s which look like they are gathering pace for the best examples.

What is your favorite place on the Island to enjoy a nice meal or drink?

I like Salt at The Ritz-Carlton, or Le Clos in Fernandina Beach.

Mike Flynn Jr.

Founder/CEO, Hollywood Wheels Auctions & Shows

What types of automobiles does Hollywood Wheels gravitate toward for this sale?

Experience tells us that by paying close attention to the markets and listening to our customers, we do not limit ourselves to any era, make or model of cars. The beauty of our company is that we are flexible, and our team of car experts enjoys and covers all types of cars, be it American '50s classics, pre-war foreign and domestic, foreign sports and exotic, vintage racers or good old American big-motored muscle and performance cars.

What does Hollywood Wheels do that makes the Amelia Island auction experience unique and special?

We are a longtime established family-owned and -operated automotive business. True car people. We believe in treating people the way we want to be treated, so our customer relations go above and beyond. We want our customers to have a truly rewarding and satisfying experience within our auction events, and we go out of our way to do so by providing all the little extras.

Is there a particular car that you see as undervalued or under-recognized that would be an exceptional candidate for your sale?

In recent years at auctions, European cars have led the way across the auction block. One neat little mass-produced car that is very common on the streets and club events, and until recently has been overlooked, is the ever-popular Porsche 911. In recent years the standard Porsche 911 has exponentially exploded in demand and price. It is the ideal modern-day classic sports car: quick, fast, nimble, reliable and good-looking, too! Interest in this little car is coming on so strong that there is a mad scramble to acquire one.

What is your favorite place on the Island to enjoy a nice meal or drink?

For a great night out I recommend downtown historic Fernandina Beach. There are many small boutique restaurants and gathering places where you can enjoy great food, fine wine, refreshing cocktails and stimulating conversation.

Antonio Brunet

Chairman, Motostalgia Auctions d'Elegance

What types of automobiles does Motostalgia gravitate toward for this sale? In two words, we gravitate towards the rarest and finest, which for us means cars that are rarely seen at auction or have unique and important history, as well as the finest of the commonly known classics. We recognize the evolution of the market, serving the established clientele in the hobby and looking forward to inspiring the new generation into modern classics.

What does Motostalgia do that makes the Amelia Island auction experience unique and special?

Motostalgia has been very successful at serving the worldwide market, with offices in Monaco and Mexico. We have great connections and clientele from Latin America that will bring new cars and buyers to Amelia.

Is there a particular car that you see as undervalued or under-recognized that would be an exceptional candidate for your sale?

Modern classics and newer exotics as a genre are definitely breaking through into the market, and we are proud to be offering a selection that we believe will be very much appreciated by the Amelia patrons.

What is your favorite place on the Island to enjoy a nice meal or drink?

Le Clos on 2nd Street is not to be missed! ■

Spring Auction Quick Takes

More classic-car sales from across the continent

American muscle is always prominent at Mecum's Kansas City auction

Mecum Auctions — Kansas City Spring

Where: Kansas City, MO

When: March 11–12

Web: www.mecum.com

Last year: 362/636 cars sold / $8.4m

Mecum will offer about 750 collector cars at this well-established, twice-annual sale. American muscle, Corvettes, hot rods and pickups make up the bulk of the consignments, with a good selection of European sports and luxury cars thrown in for variety. A 2005 Ford GT was the top sale here a year ago at $275k, and the average sold price was $23k. Leading the star cars this time around is a 1970 Plymouth Barracuda convertible offered at no reserve.

Silver Auctions — Arizona in the Spring

When: March 18–19

Where: Fort McDowell, AZ

More: www.silverauctions.com

Last year: 76/162 cars sold / $850k

Expect a good selection of quality collectibles at four- and five-digit prices at Silver's twice-yearly Arizona auction. Classic American customs and performance cars are the staples here, alongside cool trucks, European luxury cruisers and Japanese sports cars. Many cars sell for under $10k.

Mecum Auctions — Houston

Where: Houston, TX

When: April 14–16

Web: www.mecum.com

Last year: 645/929 cars sold / $25.2m

This annual mega-sale sends about 1,000 cars across the block. Restored and preserved American muscle is very well represented. Sales totaled $25m here in 2015, with 645 out of 929 cars changing hands and an average sale price of $28k.

The Branson Auction

Where: Branson, MO

When: April 15–16

Web: www.bransonauction.com

Last year: 124/172 cars sold / $2.3m

This twice-annual sale takes place at the Hilton Branson Convention Center on the Lake Taneycomo waterfront in historic downtown Branson, MO. The selection is varied, with eclectic European sports cars offered alongside ground-pounding American muscle. Prices average $15k to $20k. Last year, 124 out of 172 cars went home to new garages for a combined $2.3m total. A 1953 Packard Caribbean convertible earned high-sale honors when it sold at $75k.

Leake Auction Company — Dallas Spring

Where: Dallas, TX

When: April 15–17

Web: www.leakecar.com

Last year: 269/422 cars sold / $6.3m

Leake's signature auction format uses dual auction blocks for double the excitement. It's a super-high-energy show that keeps bidders on their toes. Classic trucks and Corvettes are always popular in Texas, and there will be plenty to choose from, but the top five cars here in 2015 were all late-model supercars: two Ferrari F430s at $135k and $150k, a 2014 BMW i8 at $176k and a 2006 Ford GT at $231k.

Silver Auctions — Portland Spring

Where: Portland, OR

When: April 16

Web: www.silverauctions.com

Last year: 41/73 cars sold / $501k

This twice-annual sale is one of the Pacific Northwest's few classic-car auctions. The consignments tend to be very affordable (sold cars averaged $8,100 here last year), ranging from Camaros and Corvettes to the totally unexpected. A 1957 Mercury Turnpike Cruiser clinched the top spot here last April when it found a new owner at $52k.

Auctions America — Auburn Spring

Where: Auburn, IN
When: May 5-7
Web: www.auctionsamerica.com
Last year: 199/299 cars sold / $5m

Nearly 500 muscle cars, classics, foreign sports cars and hot rods, along with a select range of memorabilia, cross the block during the 2016 Auburn Spring weekend. In addition to the auction, the weekend also features a swapmeet, car corral and the Antique Automobile Club of America's Special Spring Meet, which will bring 300 more cars to the Auburn Auction Park grounds.

Mecum Auctions — Original Spring Classic

Where: Indianapolis, IN
When: May 17-22
Web: www.mecum.com
Last year: 921/1,401 cars sold / $42.6m

Dana Mecum's Original Spring Classic is a weeklong event, with more than 2,000 vehicles expected for 2016. You can count on a broad selection of collectibles from across the collector-car spectrum at a range of price points, with a heavy helping of blue-chip muscle. Sold price averaged out to $33k per car last year, but one car cracked the two-comma barrier: a 1967 Shelby Cobra 427 roadster at $1,080,000.

Bonhams — Greenwich Concours d'Elegance

Where: Greenwich, CT
When: June 5
Web: www.bonhams.com
Last year: 82/94 cars sold / $7.5m

This very classy sale takes place in conjunction with the Greenwich Concours d'Elegance. The consignment list is always heavy on European sports cars and pre-war classics, such as the 1938 Bugatti Type 57C Stelvio cabriolet that was the high-seller last year at $1.6m. Average price per car works out to about $50k.

Leake — Tulsa

Where: Tulsa, OK
When: June 10-12
Web: www.leakecar.com
Last year: 513/689 cars sold / $11.6m

Leake usually sees about 700 cars on offer in Tulsa. With an average price per car of about $20k, there's something for everyone, from top-tier Mopar muscle to cool custom VW Beetles. At this sale in 2015, a 1970 Dodge Hemi Challenger R/T tied for top-sale honors with a 1959 Mercedes-Benz 190SL convertible. Both sold at $165k.

Russo and Steele — Newport Beach 2016

Where: Newport Beach, CA
When: June 10-12
Web: www.russoandsteele.com
Last year: 173/343 cars sold / $7.4m

Russo and Steele's famous "auction in the round" format is a spectacle unlike anything else in the industry. Bleachers flank the auction block on both sides, and attendees can come right down and inspect the cars as the bidding heats up. Russo puts an equal focus on big-block American muscle and European luxury sports cars. The top car here a year ago was a 2005 Porsche GT at $840k. Sales totaled $7.4m, with an average sold price of $24k.

Motostalgia — Indianapolis Brickyard Auction

Where: Indianapolis, IN
When: June 18
More: www.motostalgia.com

Motostalgia will pull out all the stops when they return to Indy for their second Brickyard auction. A 1932 Cadillac 370B V12 Victoria convertible was the big sale here in 2015 at $308k. A 1955 Porsche 356 Super 1600 Speedster and a 1935 Talbot-Lago T120 sport cabriolet followed at $286k and $198k, respectively. Average price per car was $66k, and combined sales came to $4.3m. ■

The Amelia Island Concours d'Elegance

A world-class car show with casual Southern elegance

by Dale Novak

Early racing elegance at Amelia Island

On March 13, the Amelia Island Concours d'Elegance enters its third decade with a glorious celebration showcasing some of the world's finest automobiles, not only from the United States, but from all over the world. Each year, more than 250 cars grace the pristine show field of the Golf Club of Amelia Island. It's an event that simply can't be missed.

It all started 21 years ago when the Amelia Island Ritz-Carlton approached Bill Warner with a proposal to create a celebration of automobiles.

Warner knew he had a recipe for success. Florida's picture-perfect winter weather, rolling sand dunes littered with breezy mature palms and moss-filled live oaks, set against a backdrop of the Atlantic Ocean and miles of golden sandy beaches, made for a heavenly setting. The Ritz-Carlton was already known as one of the world's finest hotel chains. Coupled with that, Mercedes-Benz jumped on board to serve as the very first sponsor.

That first year, Warner and his team organized an event that drew 125 automobiles and 2,000 spectators and donated $35,000 to charity. Since those humble beginnings, the concours has donated more than $2.75 million to local charities.

The 2016 event will honor racing legend Hans-Joachim Stuck and will feature the rare and exotic Spanish marque Pegaso. On Sunday morning, the concours green will boast nearly 10% of Pegaso's total production.

Other events leading up to the big show on Sunday include a silent auction, the Guardians of Porsche Wine Maker's Dinner, the Reliable Carriers Eight Flags Road Tour and the RM Sotheby's auction. RM Sotheby's is the official auction partner of the concours. Cars and Coffee at the Concours is a free show on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the 10th and 18th fairways.

While "The Amelia" only grows in significance with each passing year, it has stayed true to its island roots. Its casual formality could be likened to gentlemanly elegance and grace without the need for a suit and tie. Add in the Southern hospitality that seems to have disappeared from other parts of Florida, and you have the world-class jubilee of motorcars we all enjoy so much. ■

Insider Tip: This Southwest classic kicks off with the Copperstate Cruise-In on April 10 at Tempe Diablo Stadium, where the public can gaze at the gorgeous cars from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Admission to the cruise-in is free. The 2016 route is secret and will be released only to participants. That said, the 1,000 miles of this rally include some of the best two-lane highways in the United States. Participants can expect a police escort for all 1,000 miles to aid in trouble-free motor-ing. Full-time mechanics will rescue vintage cars and drivers of vintage cars.

26th Annual California Mille

Where: Begins in San Francisco and travels over California's Central Coast and mountains. The event ends in the Carmel Valley

Insider Tip: The California Mille still carries the spirit of Martin Swig, and this great event travels over 1,000 miles of the best driving roads in the state, which coincidentally tend to be free of extraneous traffic. And the food, wine and conversation ain't half bad, either. Entries range from diminutive Porsche Speedsters to hulking Panamericana Lincolns, and the route never fails to bring out the best in each.

24th Annual New England 1000

Where: This year's route is in New York's famous Adirondack Mountains with plenty of twisty, two-lane driving and visits to Lake Placid, Cooperstown and Clayton.

HEIDIMRAZ

*The Art of Provenance*TM

Part eye-candy. Part history lesson. Part hide & seek.

Conceptual artist, Heidi Mraz, creates intoxicating works of art that celebrate the beauty and provenance of the world's most iconic cars & marques. Automotive assemblages, built from a palette of ripped car magazines, auction catalogs and historical data, reveal a deeper narrative up close. Mraz skillfully puzzles together car portraits using thousands of layered fragments copied from manuals, schematics, test notes, sale sheets, press clippings, ads, handwritten letters, certifications, photographs and more. Her automotive portraits give viewers an irresistible peek into a car's storied past.

“My car portraits are more than art -- they are automotive artifact.”
