Springtime Brings Growth and Renewal

When the Amelia Island Concours d'Elegance started in 1996, no one — except maybe mastermind Bill Warner — imagined what it would become.

I've attended and judged at Amelia for more than 20 years, and it has grown from a fun, classy concours with extraordinary cars to one of the top concours in the world — with some of the best cars in the world.

No one expected to see six major auctions — this year we'll see Bonhams, Gooding, RM Sotheby's, Russo and Steele, Motostalgia and Hollywood Wheels — turn Amelia Island into a major marketplace to sell and buy special cars. These days, sales at Amelia set the market for the months before Monterey Car Week.

So Amelia is now a major player in the worldwide collector-car marketplace, and the Amelia Island Concours d'Elegance is now one of the Big Dogs in the Concours World.

We'll see more than 250 amazing cars on the field Sunday morning. Thousands of people will walk the grass and marvel at the automotive beauty on display.

Yes, Amelia Island is a big deal these days.

But one of the best parts of the weekend doesn't get a lot of press. I'm talking about Cars & Coffee on Saturday morning on the 18th Fairway. Hundreds of cars from car clubs all over the southern United States are parked on the lush grass, and the owners are happy to talk with anyone. You'll see some great cars, and the whole morning is a chance to relax and kick tires with old friends — and future friends. Admission is free.

Spring is a time of renewal and growth, and there is no better example of this than Amelia Island in March. — Keith Martin, Publisher, Sports Car Market ■

Amelia Island Stars and Sleepers

Auction house principals predict this year's headliners and surprises

RM Sotheby's

Gord Duff
Global Head of Auctions,
RM Sotheby's

RM Sotheby's Star Car: 1930 Duesenberg Model J "Sweep Panel" dual-cowl phaeton

Star Car

My star selection for our Amelia Island sale is the 1930 Duesenberg Model J "Sweep Panel" dual-cowl phaeton (estimate: $1.6m–$2m). Not only is it the one and only long-wheelbase example built to this iconic body style, but the Model J is offered fresh from a concours-quality restoration by Fran Roxas, one of the top restoration specialists in the country, and represents one of Fran's final projects before he retired after more than four decades in the industry. The Duesenberg has yet to be shown following its restoration and offers exciting concours opportunities for the next enthusiastic owner of this unique classic.

Sleeper Car

My sleeper pick for the Amelia Island sale is the 1994 Toyota Supra (estimate: $100k–$120k) offered from the Youngtimer Collection. The collection as a whole has attracted incredible attention from the next generation of collectors and enthusiasts, and the Toyota Supra is a standout model within the group that has seen considerable appreciation in recent years, even when valued near $50,000 new. This well-optioned, desirable twin-turbo, 6-speed targa example is a 13,000-mile, all-original car — virtually as new as you can get. If there's a '90s-era car that's going to come into its own, I think it's the Supra, given its limited production and worldwide appeal.

Gooding & Company

David Bryan
Senior Specialist, Gooding
& Company

Gooding & Company Sleeper Car: 1987 Porsche 962

Star Cars

Porsche and Amelia Island have become synonymous in recent years, and Gooding & Company has delivered on its tradition of bringing the greatest Porsche collections ever to auction. Our star cars for this year's Amelia Island Auction come to us from the Jan Koum Collection. These meticulously curated Motorsport-developed Porsches offer three distinct groupings of models: the air-cooled Carrera RSs from the 1990s, the GT3 RS models of the late-2000s, and the latest Porsche models produced today.

Highlights of these groupings include the 1993 Porsche 964 Carrera RS 3.8 that is widely regarded as the ultimate 964 model, the 2011 Porsche 997 GT3 RS 4.0 that is considered the ultimate evolution of the analog 911, and the 2015 Porsche 918 Weissach that is one of just seven finished in Liquid Metal Chrome Blue and has traveled fewer than 15 miles. All 10 Porsches from the collection are being offered without reserve.

Sleeper

My sleeper pick is our 1987 Porsche 962 (estimate: $1m–$1.25m); we have intense interest in competition Porsches with significant race history and well-known liveries. The 962 presented here raced in the 1987 and 1988 24 Hours of Le Mans and finished 4th overall in 1987 and 8th in 1988. This highly original example is presented in the iconic Leyton House livery.

Bonhams

Rupert Banner

Vice President of Business Development, Bonhams

Bonhams Star Car: 1930 Cadillac Series 452 V16 Roadster

Stars and Sleepers

Bonhams expects our Amelia Island auction to have a strong contingent of early motorcars this year with the news that we have been appointed to sell the famed collection of noted Brass car collector Don Boulton of Oklahoma City. A unique gathering of more than 25 examples of some of the great performance marques of the era, including a London to Brighton-eligible 1904 Peerless Type 8 4-cylinder, 24-hp Rear-Entrance Tonneau, a 1913 Mercer Model 35J Raceabout, a 1911 Pope Hartford Model W 50-hp, 4-cylinder Portola-type replica and a 1914 Simplex 50-hp Two-Seat Speedster, as well as lesser-known brands such as the renowned Tinchler automobile, from which an example of their Model H 60-hp, 4-cylinder Seven-Passenger Tourer is offered, and the car that graced the Ralph Stein car book The Treasury of the Automobile, a rare 1908 Welch Model 41 4-cylinder, 50-hp Seven Seat Tourer.

The collection is expected to realize in excess of $6m; since groups of cars of this age and quality rarely appear on the market, virtually all could be “stars” or “sleepers”!

On the individually starry side, we offer the 1930 Cadillac Series 452 V16 Roadster, an iconic Classic-era motorcar, which is one of the most covetable in terms of design and rarity. This immaculate and highly original example retains matching numbers throughout and was the one picked by the Danbury Mint when they chose to immortalize this and other icons in their famed model series. We estimate its value upwards of $1.25m.

Russo and Steele

Drew Alcazar

CEO and owner, Russo and Steele Auction Company

Russo and Steele Star Car: prototype 1985 Porsche 930 Slant Nose

Star Car

One of the many spectacular “Star Cars” that headline the inaugural Russo and Steele Auction is actually owned by a Star! The prototype 1985 Porsche 930 Slant Nose that will be featured at our Amelia Island Auction is consigned by actor Matt LeBlanc, famous for his role as “Joey” of the hit TV series “Friends,” his more recent role on “Top Gear,” and his current series, “Man with a Plan.”

The stunning Porsche is a star in its own right, as it was a factory pre-production prototype delivered from the factory several years before the actual production cars were manufactured. It was used at expositions across North America to gauge interest in the Slant Nose body style. A host of unique items are present throughout the car, and the odometer shows only 940 miles. The car is 100% original in every respect.

Sleeper

The 1952 Tojeiro Barchetta was essentially the design-study prototype for what eventually became Carroll Shelby’s immortal Cobra. John Tojeiro built three Barchetta-bodied race cars, which caught the eye of AC Cars. The design study went on to yield the AC Ace, and then as fate would have it, Shelby walked in the door.

Due to its history and design significance, this Sports Racer is eagerly welcomed to the pre-eminent vintage events across the globe. An extensive binder of historical documents, including period photographs, proves this to be one of but a few well-sorted and historically significant collector cars on the planet.

Hollywood Wheels

Mike Flynn Jr.

Founder/CEO, Hollywood Wheels Auctions and Shows

Star Car

Our Star Car is a 1956

Wright Special. This was the first Corvette V8-powered Special built.

Jim Culbert of CAE Automotive consulted with

Carroll Shelby on the chassis design, Dean Meltzer hand-formed the body, Jim Nelson was the engine builder and Johnny Wright built the car. There is extensive West Coast race history.

Timing tags from June 1957 indicate a top speed of 143.6 mph. In 1959, it hit 117 mph in the standing quarter-mile. The car has been restored to the way it looked when it appeared in Hot Rod magazine in August 1960.

Sleeper

Our sleeper car is a 1929 Ford Model A Paddy Wagon. A recently restored tribute to the Chicago Police Department, it literally has all the bells and whistles. From the rare center top red light with siren to the four giant chrome emergency lights, everything is in complete working order. The oak billy club, the replica Tommy gun, the “Wanted” posters and the shackles complete the look. The attention to detail is impeccable.

Hollywood Wheels Sleeper: 1929 Ford Model A Paddy Wagon

BlueChipCar by Motostalgia

Antonio Brunet

Board Member, BlueChip-Car by Motostalgia

Star Car

We are very proud to offer one of the most elegant Italian cars: the 1942 Alfa Romeo 6C 2500 SS Spider. This is among the most beautiful 6C 2500s in the world, and has won Concorso Italiano’s Best of Show, was a Mille Miglia participant and is well known in the concours circuit, with Pebble Beach placing history and a 2018 Most Elegant Award at the Amelia Island Concours.

Sleeper

A sleeper to watch out for is our fantastic 1949 Cisitalia 202 SC cabriolet. With its fresh and clean Pinin Farina design, this car has been celebrated at MoMA, the Museum of Modern Art. It has a fantastic restoration in an attractive silver-over-maroon paint scheme, and it is presented with its very rare Cisitalia MM performance engine. ■

THE THRILL OF DRIVING A MODERN RACING CLASSIC

Proteus Sports & Racing Cars and Lynx Motors International are globally renowned for producing the highest quality and most sought after modern iterations of classic Jaguar C-types, D-types, Lightweight E-types, and the XKSS. Offered in left or right hand drive and all aluminum, these exquisite racing icons are faster, safer, more comfortable, and dramatically more affordable than their original counterparts. Bespoke British Sports Cars is proud to present the Lynx and Proteus marques to North American connoisseurs of the Jaguar racing tradition.

For half a century Lynx has built the finest Jaguar recreations available in the world. Indeed, Lynx was chosen to conduct the restoration of the famous XKSS once owned by Steve McQueen. Iterations of the great classics can be built to order and, if desired, to FIA racing standards - though most owners acquire these tributes for the sheer joy of owning and driving something as close to the originals as one can get while also enjoying greater safety and affordability.

Proteus, founded in 1980, has become legendary for creating eminently drivable evolutions of the famous C-types and the unique XJ13. Once a supplier of kit cars, Proteus now only crafts aluminum vehicles using an expensive Superform process to guarantee meticulous results for the 12 major body panels. Driving experience is remarkable, as various discrete enhancements have been developed to produce some of the finest, most beautifully finished and safest evolutions of these great sports and racing cars.

Insider's Tips

Things to do, places to eat, and events to see while you're in Amelia Island, as picked by SCMerS

29 South Eats — definitely get the "Coffee and Donuts" for dessert

SCM asked our readers about their favorite things to do during Amelia Island — from eating at special restaurants to getting on the concours show field before the sun comes up. Here's how you responded:

Be sure to go to 29th South Eats for dinner, but do not under any circumstances leave without having the "Coffee and Donuts" for dessert. Additionally, the Salty Pelican is tremendous for casual food. — Jay Ardolino

I grew up there and there are two good places. The Surf for fried shrimp, and Fort Clinch to take a break at a cool historic spot. It has a beautiful oak-lined drive to the fort. — Greg Stanley

Take some time to explore downtown Fernandina Beach

Regarding Amelia Island area restaurants, my wife, Trish, and I like Singleton's Seafood Shack — a short (and fun) ferry ride from Fernandina Beach.

Fishermen bring their catches right to the restaurant — and you can sit and eat in a rustic setting or take out orders.

It's not fancy, it's cash only and it's a tad noisy, but it's the real deal for delicious Gulf shrimp, oysters and fresh fish. — Ken Gross

Singleton's Seafood Shack

Take a trip to downtown Fernandina Beach. It has a quaint, cute, nice walkable downtown with very good restaurants and bakeries. Use TripAdvisor, Yelp, Google, etc., whatever floats your boat, to find them. You won't leave hungry.

The Jacksonville airport has very high fees and taxes on car rentals. If you have some extra time, pick up and return your rental car at an off-airport location. Figure on 30% to 50% savings. Your savings will easily pay for the cab/Uber/Lyft to and from the airport.

Several residents on Scott Road (opposite the Ritz Carlton) sell parking spots on their lawn. You'll pay about the same as the "official" parking but will have an easy, no-traffic in and out. Some take advance reservations, so your no-hassle parking spot can be waiting for you. You can also park free on some roadsides if you get there early enough.

On Sunday, cross over to the west side of the Amelia Island Parkway (the Ritz Carlton is on the east side) and check out the exhibits on more of the golf course. It's a potluck of cars, car stuff, and automobilia. — Harry from MA

I haven't missed an Amelia in 15 years. For me, the anchor event is the RM preview event under the tent at the Ritz. It's Friday eve, about when everyone is in town, and the Ritz sideshows and displays are in full bloom. Although there is often an RM-hosted bidders' cocktail party, the preview area is open and free. — Alex Dearborn

Looking to save some money on lodging? The Jacksonville airport is a little more than a half hour away from most the Amelia events. You can snag an airport-area hotel for under $100, but don't wait until the last minute. — Steve Ahlgrim

1. Always anticipate a schedule change based on weather. The concours may move to Saturday if Sunday is going to have bad weather.

2. As long as you are going to Amelia Island, get there early and go to Porsche Werks Reunion on Friday. It is free and you will see some absolutely amazing Porsches.

3. Amelia's Guardians of Porsche Wine Maker's Dinner is a star-studded event not to be missed. There are as many heavy hitters in the audience as there are on stage. It's on Thursday, March 7, at the Ritz-Carlton, from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. Advanced registration is required; tickets are $350, available at www.ameliaconcours.org.

4. Cars & Coffee at the Concours on Saturday offers car enthusiasts a wonderful opportunity to see an outstanding group of owners' cars. — Randall Richter

Purchase tickets to be seated in the stands during the concours. Therefore, join the Amelia Island Club. Your seat allows for close viewing, food service and bar service, plus, hats, carrying bags and other goodies. A parking pass is provided.

The auctions are crowded, and fees run about $300 per ticket. But if possible, arrive at the auction show field early to view cars that will cross before the audience.

Some of the seminars are fun, usually those that feature former race-car drivers and the types of cars they drive. The gift areas are congested, so visit these areas while auctions are underway.

The auctions underscore the commercial side of classic-car collecting. It's all about the money. So unless one plans to purchase a cool car, try not to be turned off by the emphasis on financial activity. Remember, only special examples bring big bucks.

By and large, the people attending are great, interesting and usually love cars, so there is much to talk about. — Sherrod Morehead

Porsche Werks Reunion

The Ritz Carlton. Early reservations are a must for any lodging on Amelia Island

I attended the 2018 Amelia Island festivities for the first time and greatly appreciated how well it was put on by Bill Warner and his friendly staff.

I'm a 20-plus-year veteran of the Monterey events and found much to be thankful for at Amelia Island. Besides the Friday drive, the Saturday Cars & Coffee and the concours were amazing.

Things I learned:

- Restaurant reservations, especially for groups, are almost more important than having a place to stay on the island.
- Room reservations are critical, obviously; it is a small island, after all.
- Driving from one event to another can take time, but nothing like the Monterey Peninsula gridlock in August.
- The massive pull to try and be at three events at the same time every day at Monterey simply does not exist.
- Honest-to-God Southern hospitality is a pleasant surprise.

As a car freak from Southern California, I expect to see some of the same cars on various West Coast show grounds; it was such a pleasure to see cars at Amelia Island from the other side of the continent that I had never seen before. — Jim Barrett

We've attended 19 of the past 22 years.

- Don't miss "free" Cars & Coffee on Saturday morning. It's a great show!
- Gilbert's Underground in Fernandina Beach is great barbeque.
- Dinner at España (Fernandina) is always a treat.
- Drinking coffee in the lobby of the Ritz on Sunday morning is a great way to pass the time prior to the 10 a.m. event opening. Actually, everything at the Ritz is a great way to spend your time. Vendors, ride-and-drives, auction, etc.

- Auction preview at the Ritz on Saturday is a must.
- It's a "classy" event. Don't dress like a goober and don't forget to bring your manners. Sunscreen, sunglasses and a hat are a good idea, too. You'll be amazed at how quickly pasty-white, northern-climate skin will burn in the early March Florida sun.
- Porsche Werks Reunion at the Omni on Saturday is a must.
- Friday, take about an hour road trip to Saint Simons Island, GA, for perhaps the finest barbeque in the world, at Southern Soul Barbeque. — Rob & Kara Fortney
